The 1960 Reflection

MALDEN VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

MALDEN, MASSACHUSETTS

ADMINISTRATION

A Message from Mr. Booth

The fact that you are a graduate of this school, does not mean that you have a passport to success and happiness, but it does mean that you have added to your growth in a very tangible way, in that you have the substance of character and training necessary for good citizenship and craftsmanship. How well you exercise and develop these possessions will determine your degree of success and happiness.

From the above, I would deduce that success and happiness are inter-related. The achievement of these is by nothing short of work. So let us work and work--and work some more.

God-speed!

James A. Booth

BASKETBALL

The basketball season opened with a large turnout of candidates. Our new coach, Sam Winerman, began molding the team. There were several preliminary scrimmages at the various Wheelock Schools. The veterans of last year, C. and O'Leary, Morgan, Kennedy, Cefioli, Gelman, D. Rienzo, and Fitzpatrick New additions were J. Brennan, P. Brennan, Maninos, Brown, Tabor, Hounam, Riccardone, and Hankinson as managers. The team played well but were only able to win one game which was with Everett. The score was 45 to 24. Joe Brennan did the scoring for the team. The total points were 154, and Peter Cleary, 1st A. followed with 71 points. Coach Winerman was doing an excellent job of coaching but was taken ill and his assistant Peter Cleary took over the coaching duties.

FENCING

Since its inception nearly four years ago, Fencing at M.V.H.S. has amazed both its patrons and its detractors. That is the way it should be, for Fencing as an organized sport and method of self defense has survived some very perilous times. We know of its use by the Gladiators of Rome, by the Crusaders, and by the great court figures of many nations and more so by the magnificent association it has in the Olympic and World Championship. M.V.H.S. was the first of its type to accept Fencing as a sport.

The last four seasons, we have had some exciting matches with the Salle Elde, M.I.T., Harvard University, Boston University, Fay School of Southboro, and in the high school boys' championship which was held in our own gym.

The interest for Fencing, naturally, cannot compete with mass sports such as football, basketball, baseball, but it does afford a greater degree of participation for many diverse physical types. In this sport the emphasis is on sturdy mental and physical alertness. The large and the small can do it. The discipline is such that constant alertness must be present. It is always a hope that this alertness will transfer to the classroom.
